

Selena Olivianora Serpentine

Playlist | Poem

I'm a princess cut from marble, smoother than a storm Tired little laughs, gold-lie promises it's a fact that a sneer will eat you alive
'Cause when I open my body I breathe in a lie
Tell you a secret, I'm not alarmed
So what if I'm crazy? The best people are Low life for life 'cause I'm heartless
You hear it clear in my tone
They used to shout my name, now they whisper it
But I got my fingers laced together and I made a little prison
And I'm locking up everyone that ever laid a finger on me

Oh sinners come down, come gather 'round
Glory and gore go hand in hand
Take what you want, take what you can Take what you please, don't give a damn
Ask for forgiveness, never permission
Consign me not to darkness
So crawl on my belly 'til the sun goes down
Is it only when you feel a part is empty
That it's gnawing at the corners of your mind
I will ask you for mercy
I will come to you blind
Never been a perfect soul
But I will not apologize
And I did a lot wrong I can't make right

You never gave up on me

why don't you?

I'll never know what you see why won't you?

Now in this twilight, how dare you speak of grace?

I'll never wear your broken crown

Was I made from a broken mold?

"Secretly you love this, do you even wanna go free?"